NEWARK STREET GRADE.

Reply of Commissioners to Complaint of Property Holders.

Some of the property holders along the ine of Newark Street, in Cleveland Park, are dissatisfied with the change of the rades preposed by the municipal authorities in improving that theroughfare They have complained to Senator McMillan, Chairman of the Senate Committe for the District, and he recently requested from the Commissioners a statement of the facts in the matter.

The Commissioners have replied, stating that the grading and repair of Newark Street and Highland Avenue was undertaken at the request of interested proprepairs to county roads. It is further stated that this street was originally graded by private parties prior to its dedication to the District, the grade just west of Connecticut Avenue being about authorized a grade of 8.84 per cent, immediately west of Connecticut Avenue, to satisfy the wishes of property holders there. The Commissioners say that it does not seem practicable to construct a street and to maintain the same at a steeper grade than that.

The Commissioners admit that the grading necessitated the changing of some of the terraces abutting the street, but that it was inevitable. They do not consider the changes in the terraces as serious, except from the fact that when these houses were built they were located without reference to the grade which the municipality might fix or to the street lines which might be adopted when the streets were dedicated. The Commissioners think it is due to this fact that access to some of them is now

SHORT STORY CLUB.

Interesting Programme at the Last Regular Meeting.

The Short Story Club held its regular meeting last Monday evening at 522 Sixth Street northwest. Dr. Thomas Robinson, the president, occupying the chair, Many nembers and their friends were present. After the reading of the minutes, being themselves a "short story" of the preceding meeting, by Mrs. C. A. Metcalf, the programme was as follows:

"A Whistling Song," by Mrs, Clifford Howard. Miss Emily E. Sauter made her initial bow to the club with the story of the evening, "A Startling Occurrence. Judge Henner, from Idaho, gave a recitation from James A. Whitcomb Riley; song, by Mr. Dana Holland, "The Vanguard of the King," composed by the accompanist, Miss Minnie Balley; a paper, "The Mayflower," by Capt. W. W. Case, was a most interesting description of his recent visit to the homes of the pilgrim fathers in England and in Holland, and showing the beautiful and artistic abstracts. England and in Holland, and showing the beautiful and artistic photogrhaps of them, taken by Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Howard while there with him; song, by Mr. Dana Holland, "Forging the Anchor," accompanist Miss Minnie Balley. Then Capt. Arthur Portman gave a most instructive and interesting account, inter-spersed with quaint humor, of the Suez Canal, from his personal experience and Canal, from his personal experience and observation of many years. Items of na-tional interest were contributed by Dr. L. R. Klemm, Miss Gertrude Withington, and Mrs. C. A. Metcalf. The next meeting will be held Decem-

He writes to know whether he would be entitled to mileage endeavoring for the arrest and for the transportation he had made. From he deputy's statement I believe it was a necessity for him to leave his buggy and that he used all the means at hand for preventing an escape.

"I would thank you for an opinion as to whether an account for this arrest and service should be allowed by me in the payment of this deputy's accounts."

Mr. Tracewell held that the deputy was not entitled to fee or mileage as charged by him, "inasmuch as the warrant was not in fact executed by the production of the prisoner for examination, whether through the fault of the deputy or not, is imma-

These missives, as a rule, are deposited in the mail boxes by the children themselves without the knowledge of their varents, and the consequence is that many of the requests are simply addressed to "Mr. Santa Claus, in this city," and lack the necessary postage stamps to carry them to their destination. These young letter writers in their anxiety to make sure of Santa Claus receiving their letters, pick up old and used stamps and paste them on the envelope, thinking that everything is all right, and that "G.1 Santy" will get it.
